

Interested in doing research in Agroecology?

Several scholarships are available for students wanting to do their thesis or independent study project on an agroecology related topic!

- Open to students in any FIU academic program.
- Up to $2,000 available per graduate student to support field research and/or travel.
- Minority students are encouraged to apply.
- Students applying must have a 3.0 GPA or better.
- Relevant research topics: agro-ecological practices, landscape-level modeling of landuse and water regime changes, precision farming, urban-rural dynamics, and sustainable agriculture.

Students can apply by submitting a one-page research or study proposal, budget, a resume, FIU transcripts, and a letter of recommendation from your major advisor. Applications should be sent to the address below by December 16th, 2005.
