Masters of Arts in Asian Studies

The M.A. degree in Asian Studies is an interdisciplinary program that draws on faculty from the College of Arts and Sciences and professional schools at FIU. The courses are coordinated by the Institute for Asian Studies, which also sponsors workshops, lectures, cultural events, and study abroad programs.

The master's program provides students with a rich learning experience about a fascinating and increasingly important region of the world, and is intended to enhance the student's competitiveness upon graduation. The program provides a multidisciplinary approach covering the philosophy, religion, art history, language and literature of Asia as well as issues in history, politics, geography, sociology/anthropology, and international relations.

The M.A. has two concentrations: International Political Economy of Asia, which emphasizes social scientific studies involving economics, international relations, politics, and sociology; and Asian Cultural Studies, which emphasizes the humanities and arts disciplinary approaches.

For further information please contact the Institute for Asian Studies, located at DM 300 B, at asian@fiu.edu or at (305) 348-1914. Also, visit our website at www.fiu.edu/~asian.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must meet one of the following minimum requirements for admissions to the MAAS program:

1. 3.5 undergraduate GPA;
2. 550 score on the verbal portion of the GRE, or M.A. in the humanities or social sciences from an accredited institution,
3. 3.0 or above in 9 hours of graduate courses as a special student in the program. (These nine hours may not be in Independent Study courses.) A limited number of applicants may be admitted after passing a writing exam, if they also present either a 475 score on the verbal section of the GRE or a 3.0 undergraduate GPA.

International graduate student applicants whose native language is not English are required to submit a score for the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or for the International English Language Testing System (IELTS). A total score of 80 on the iBT TOEFL or 6.3 overall on the IELTS is required.

The above admission requirements are minimums and not all students meeting them are assured admission. Students with either a grade-point average or GRE score below the above minimums may still apply and request a waiver of those scores. The student must provide an

Degree Requirements (both concentrations)

The MAAS program requires 30 graduate credits.

MAAS offers two graduation exit options:

1. Completion of thesis project
2. Completion of a master's essay and one additional 3 credit course

Language Requirements

Students choosing the Master's Thesis option will be asked to demonstrate competence in an Asian language relevant to their thesis project when appropriate (e.g. for pre-modern studies or fieldwork research). Proficiency requirements will be determined by the thesis committee. Credits earned in meeting the language requirement will not count towards the 30 credit hours required for the degree.

Core Courses (6 credits)

1. ASN 5315 Survey of Modern Asia
2. A research methods course in a discipline related to the student's primary area of study such as HIS 6059 (Historical Methods), INR 5615 (Research Design in International Relations), POS 5706 (Research Methodology), REL 6013 (Modern Analysis of Religion), REL 6935 (Seminar in Sacred Texts), SYA 6305 (Research Methods I), or equivalent.

Other Coursework (18 credits)

A minimum of 12 credits are required in the main concentration. Students may receive credit through independent study, study abroad, or internship approved by the program advisor.

Master's Thesis Option (6 credits)

ASN 6xxx Thesis

Students pursuing careers in the public or private sectors requiring strong research and analytic skills, or students planning to continue with Ph.D. studies, are encouraged to select the MAAS thesis exit option. The thesis is publicly defended and approved by a committee of three faculty members. The committee chair and at least one other member must be from FIU departments offering courses in the MAAS concentrations. The committee as a whole must be drawn from at least two different departments. During the thesis period, the student registers for thesis credits (six credits minimum required) with their thesis committee chair. Thesis projects are conducted in accordance with the FIU Regulations for Thesis / Dissertation Preparation Manual.

Non-Thesis Option: Master's Essay (3 credits) and one additional course (3 credits)

As a substitute for the thesis option, students who are not likely to pursue a more advanced degree may choose the non-thesis option and must complete a substantial research project (Master's Essay) and one additional course (3 credits) in either concentration to satisfy the required 30 semester credit hours.
